

How Does Life Insurance Premium Financing Work?

In many situations, it can make economic sense for a family to finance the premiums needed to acquire life insurance coverage for estate and wealth transfer planning purposes. Here's how a basic financing transaction is structured:

The loan principal is typically paid back from cash values during the life of the insured or from death benefits at the insured's demise. If you would like to learn more about life insurance premium financing, please contact Acumen Insurance Solutions.